PA NEW OBSERVES

If the crowd of people at the local free public library Tuesday afternoon is an example of the number who will be using the library this fall and winter, it looks like the staff will get nothing done but the checking of incoming and outgoing books. Two staff members were kept at the desk the entire afternoon. The rush was due in part to the fact that the library was closed on Labor Day.

Activities at the Y. M. C. A., where New Castle's men and boys find plenty of things to keep them in physical trim, will be resumed for another winter season in a very short time now. Even this early the planners are working out schedules that will afford many a merry time for the classes.

Pa. New, on a drive recently, observed that a farmer on Lawrence county's edge has resorted to signs to protect his valued poultry. On a pole a sign reads: "Drive Slow. There May Be Chickens on the Road."

In the midst of the modern automobiles parked in front of the Senior high school on Wednesday stood a white horse and a black surrey which likely gave the first owner a real thrill when he drove it about in an earlier day. A group of city students, reports say, rode (Continued On Page Two)

Disqualify Three Entries For Beauty Title "Miss America"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7.—Three beauties were disqualified today from competition for the title of "Miss America" in the revival of the Atlantic City beauty pageant. Armand T. Nichols, director-general of the pageant, informed International News Service of the disqualifications, after an investigation of charges that there had been illegal entries in the battle of pulchritude.

The three pretties unwittingly violated the rules of the pageant by coming from states other than those they represent.

The names of the beauties were withheld by Director Nichols to save the girls from the public embarrassment which might attend such a disclosure. They will be permitted to participate in the events but their entries will be ignored in their deliberations.

Admit Violations

The girls, interviewed by International News Service, admitted innocently violating the laws of the pageant.

They attributed the mistake to a promoter who assured them that they could represent a state other than the one in which they resided.

One of the girls was taken from a mid-western college where she had been selected "Queen of the Campus" to carry the banner of another state.

The second girl said she had never resided in the state she represents and had not competed in any sort of contest in that state.

The third girl said she came from a city in a state many miles distant from the state she was designated for.

"The investigation will continue to find out if any other girls have been entered illegally, either intentionally or unintentionally," said Nichols.

Charges Hurdled

The announcement of the director followed a series of unofficial charges by unofficial managers of the beauties which rumbled beneath the tranquility of the pageant.

These charges included allegations that some of the girls were professional models, stage girls, residents of states different from their designation, and with influential friends.

Another charge held that a certain far western entry carried artificial eyelashes into the arena of beauty.

Today's schedule calls for bathers' revue in the afternoon and the judging of the most beautiful girl in an evening gown at night.

Court Room Gasps At Mrs. Read's Story

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 7.—"Alfred said Miss Windsor told him he would never need to work again if he would just go to South America with her."

That statement, made on the witness stand by Mrs. Marian Read, attractive Oakland, Cal., socialite, provoked gasps in a crowded courtroom and caused Miss Claire Windsor, beautiful film star, to hide her face in her hands and laugh bitterly.

Mrs. Read today was expected to make other revelations of the affection her handsome husband, Alfred C. Read, Jr., a broker, bestowed upon her until he met Miss Windsor, now defendant in Mrs. Read's $100,000 alienation of affections suit.

U. S. Warships Are Converging On Havana, Cuba

Twelve In Fleet Sailing To Drop Anchor In Cuban Waters

NAVY SECRETARY ENROUTE TO CUBA

Bluejackets And Marines Are Carried On Ships; No Intervention

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—All American naval vessels in Atlantic waters were ordered by the navy today to hold themselves in readiness to go to Cuba on short notice.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—American warships converged on Cuba today, while President Roosevelt clung to the hope intervention will not be necessary. Meanwhile concentration of 1,100 Marines, ready for instant duty, was completed at the Quantico, Va., barracks.

All these warlike preparations came under the head of "precautions" taken in the interest of protection of American life and property in Cuba. It was carefully explained. This government will avoid in every possible way intervening in the internal affairs of the republic.

There has been no flat statement that the administration will hesitate to intervene should conditions warrant such action. The present position is to give Cuba ample time to work out her own salvation.

Twelve Warships In Fleet.

Twelve warships made up the fleet sailing under the president's orders to drop anchor in Cuban waters. One of these, the Cruiser Indianapolis, carried no less a personage than Secretary of the Navy Swanson, headed for Havana. The Indianapolis sailed from Annapolis, Md., yesterday and is to arrive in Havana Friday morning.

The Cruiser Richmond and two destroyers, Stetson and MacFarland, were standing by off Havana. The battleship Mississippi, three destroyers and four coast guard cutters raced southward and were due to arrive with the Indianapolis. Each carried a complement of bluejackets, while the two cruisers and the battleship also carried a contingent of Marines.

Latest reports from the Cuban area were not encouraging. One advice cabled the president by Ambassador Sumner Welles in Havana told of "disquiet" in the interior and increasing unrest on the southern coast of the island.

No Action Yet Taken By Administration In Case Of Henry Ford

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. The administration took decisive action today to break the deadlock over a bituminous coal code, but postponed a showdown in the case of Henry Ford.

Following a series of conferences during which President Roosevelt called coal operators and union leaders to the White House, the administration's course was outlined as follows:

Course Outlined

1. Coal operators will be given until 6 p. m. Friday to accept a code of fair competition or National Recovery Administrator Hugh S. Johnson will present it to President Roosevelt for signature Saturday.

2. Urgent demands by the administration for an agreement between Appalachian coal operators and the United Mine Workers of America may result in the signing of a union contract today.

Viscount Grey Taken By Death

British Foreign Minister During Late World War Dies Of Illness

(International News Service)

ALNWICK, NORTHUMBRIA, Eng., Sept. 7.—Viscount Grey of Fallodon, British foreign minister under two kings and the man who sent England to war against Germany in 1914, died at his home today.

He was 71. Death followed a lingering illness which became acute a week ago Saturday when intensified by an abdominal complaint. He had been in a coma much of the past week.

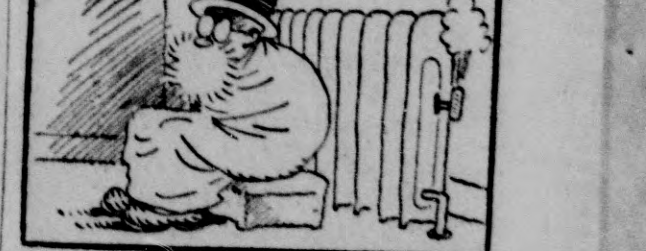

Lord Grey was temporary ambassador to the United States in 1919, an office which marked the virtual end of his public life.

Subject Of Attack

LONDON, Sept. 7.—By a curious coincidence, David Lloyd George's new book "war memoirs," bitterly attacking Lord Grey, was published today, day of the war-time foreign minister's death.

The former premier indicted Lord Grey for his "calamitous failure" to avert the world war. It was Lord Grey, then Sir Edward Grey, who was responsible for England declaring war against Germany.

The weather may be summer yet, the calendar is right, and it may be a lovely day, with balmy summer nights, but lots of us have caught a cold, a summer sneezing fit, and goldenrod and plants like that, don't register a hit. It may be warm, it is at that, not nearly warm enough, for summer colds are summer pests and make a lad feel tough. In January, or in March a fellow gets that way, but in September colds are tough, it's eighty four today.

(Special To The News)
SANTA MONICA, Cal., Sept. 7.—Even experts don't know what the weather will do. Even millionaires don't know what Wall Street will do.

There is millions of things that nobody knows anything about in advance, but the dumbest guy in the world knows that the minute a Latin American country has a revolution that it is just the opening game of a series of 'em.

You know we got the wrong impression of a revolution. They was raised on 'em down there; they love 'em. It's their only relaxation. Sure, people get killed sometimes if it's a first class grade A revolution. They may lose about as many as we lose over our week-ends by trying to pass somebody on a turn.

There is one thing about a Latin American country. No matter who is running it, they are always run the same.

RECOVER 18 BODIES IN TEXAS STORM ZONE

Relief Workers See Devastation

Estimate 4,000 Homes Destroyed In Lower Rio Grande Valley

MOVE TO PREVENT MALARIA OUTBREAK

(International News Service)
HARLINGEN, Tex., Sept. 7.—Bodies of eighteen victims have been recovered from the hurricane zone, Red Cross officials stated today in a report estimating that 4,000 homes were destroyed in the devastated lower Rio Grande Valley.

Preliminary surveys by relief workers showed that the tropical gale killed at least 22 persons, injured nearly 1,000 and caused a property damage of many millions of dollars.

Death Toll Grows
The list of dead may be increased as relief units check outlying farms and villages still cut off by paralyzed telegraph and telephone facilities. Relief operations were being conducted from two points, San Antonio and Houston.

Mayors of these cities arrived in Harlingen with relief trains. The one from San Antonio consisted of six cars of food, medical supplies and 100 doctors and 125 nurses.

Many Destitute
Albert Evans, Red Cross relief director on the scene, said that between 3,000 and 4,000 families, mostly Mexican, were destitute and could be given aid by the Red Cross.

Eight thousand homes were damaged, Evans reported.

Medical authorities were taking all possible precautions to guard against an outbreak of malaria. Several towns in the valley, their power plants destroyed, were without drinking water. Food was reported scarce throughout the storm zone.

County Detective Seeks Republican Party Nomination For Sheriff

H. Martin "Peck" Lee, present county detective, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for sheriff.

Mr. Lee is married and a resident of the fourth ward of New Castle. He is a grandson of Madison Main.

Civil war veteran, who was one of the earliest settlers of Lawrence county.

When nineteen years of age Mr. Lee enlisted in the army, where he served twenty-four months with the 28th division, ten of which were in France as a member of the machine gun company of the 110th infantry.

For ten years after the World war he taught in the Ellwood City schools. While engaged as an instructor in the Ellwood schools he also coached athletics.

In making his announcement Mr. Lee says: "I have held one appointive office, that of county detective, and am willing to be judged as sheriff timber by the manner in which I have filled that office."

A closed shop contract, however, Johnson ruled, is impossible under the National Recovery Act.

Johnson demanded that wage agreements be settled by districts with the United Mine Workers. Unless an agreement is reached strikes and other serious troubles may develop, he said.

IF YOU OWN A PLYMOUTH
You may have been one of the lucky Plymouth owners last year who said good-bye to anti-freeze worries. Thousands put in Eveready Prestone when cold weather came and promptly forgot their troubles for the rest of the winter.

At today's price of $2.95 a gallon, Eveready Prestone is your most economical purchase.

Here's why. It won't evaporate or boil away—so no refills are needed. $3.72 will protect any "Floating-Power" Plymouth down to zero. For other models and makes, see your dealer's chart. Put it in and drive all through the winter without a care on your mind.

You've got safe, sure protection against both freezing and rust.

Eveready Prestone is approved by all car manufacturers. Fully guaranteed by National Carbon Co., Inc., New York, N. Y.

*Records show New Castle usually sees freezing temperatures by Sept. 30. Put in Eveready Prestone now, and have real protection all winter.

Lee Candidate For Sheriff
County Detective Seeks Republican Party Nomination For Sheriff

H. Martin "Peck" Lee, present county detective, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for sheriff.

Mr. Lee is married and a resident of the fourth ward of New Castle. He is a grandson of Madison Main.

Civil war veteran, who was one of the earliest settlers of Lawrence county.

When nineteen years of age Mr. Lee enlisted in the army, where he served twenty-four months with the 28th division, ten of which were in France as a member of the machine gun company of the 110th infantry.

For ten years after the World war he taught in the Ellwood City schools. While engaged as an instructor in the Ellwood schools he also coached athletics.

In making his announcement Mr. Lee says: "I have held one appointive office, that of county detective, and am willing to be judged as sheriff timber by the manner in which I have filled that office."

I have conducted this office economically. During the last four years our administration has, at all times, tried to be fair, courteous and impartial.

A closed shop contract, however, Johnson ruled, is impossible under the National Recovery Act.

Johnson demanded that wage agreements be settled by districts with the United Mine Workers. Unless an agreement is reached strikes and other serious troubles may develop, he said.

Shenango Chapter O. E. S. Opens Season With Novel Japanese Tea

A Japanese garden in all its glory was the beautiful setting for the afternoon tea party given by Shenango Chapter No. 333, Order of the Eastern Star, with worthy matron Mrs. Belda Bridenbaugh presiding on Wednesday afternoon in the East Lodge room of the Cathedral. Members and guests numbering 150 attended the event which proved one of the most unique social activities of the early fall season.

As the guests arrived they entered the garden through a trellis entwined with the loveliest of the season's flowers, and surrounding the entire room was a little fence also decorated with choice blooms. As the guests were ushered to their seats by aides garbed in smart Japanese robes and pajama ensembles, they noted the cheerful songs of numerous canary birds arranged about the room. Also bowls of gold fish and all that tends to make a garden complete, including Japanese parasols, made the setting most realistic.

A program was given at 2:30 o'clock as follows: "I Know a Lovely Garden" by Mrs. Birdie Dietrich; piano solo, Betty Bridenbaugh; reading, Marian Hughes; violin solo, Salvatore Cresce; vocal solo, "A Japanese Love Song" by Mrs. Allen Stone; dance, Ruth Hoyland. This period of the entertainment program was in charge of Miss Lois Martin, chairman and Mrs. Ella McGill. The latter announced the numbers.

Following the guests were served tea, candy, and cakes by the Japanese maids, and a gay and spirited period ensued. As each table finished, the ladies were taken to the front of the room where Mrs. Sue Jackson and Mrs. Joe Lindsay awaited in gypsy attire to foretell their futures. This was cleverly carried out and was the conclusion of a most delightful afternoon party.

Those who served included Mrs. Myrtle Klingensmith, chairman; Mrs. Ruth Irwin, Mrs. Nevada Snyder, Mrs. Bernice Ringer, Mrs. Irene McKibben, Mrs. Myrtle Rohrer, Mrs. Georgia Stewart, Mrs. Helen Wharton, Mrs. Bernice Brown, Mrs. Lena Weber, Mrs. Madge Perry, Mrs. Frances Klee, Mrs. Ella McGill and Mrs. Mildred Doerr. IT NEVER CHANGES

RURAL America is now in the midst of another county fair season, exhibiting, comparing and judging the products of the soil and the handiwork of the farm home in friendly though spirited competition and for the mutual benefit of all.

In hundreds of thousands of exhibits the true spirit of America shines forth in a steady light—the calm confidence of men and women in their ability to wrest a living from the soil; the pride in homely achievements; the neighborly helpfulness and good-natured rivalry for first prizes; the renewing of old acquaintances; the assertion of an optimism and courage which no depression can dismay and the healthful commingling of city people and rural folk.

Not in a hundred years does the county fair change. Grandchild sees it as grandfather did in his youth, with its pens of prize livestock, tables of canned goods, needlework and blue ribbon fruit, vegetables and grain, trotting races on the track, interscholastic contests, the noisy midway and a thousand other attractions and distractions. It is always the same yet the county never tires of it. In that respect it is like the circus.

America owes much to the county fair—so does agriculture. More wonderful to gaze upon is a world's fair such as the Century of Progress but greater are the contributions of the county fair to the progress of rural America.

VICTORY FOR THE EAST

It looks like an all-Eastern World Series this year with the Washington Senators holding up the American League end and the New York Giants challenging the title for the National League. Unless they suffer one of those late-season breaks both teams are reasonably sure of winning their league pennants.

Fortune has chosen the most populous center of the country for the series (something greatly to be desired in a year of reduced gate receipts) but has not smiled upon the railroads and the fans beyond the Appalachians. Little of the World Series "gate" will go for railroad tickets for the players and the Middle West fans may lack the interest or the funds to make up this loss for the railroads.

New York and Washington are looking forward to a repetition of the intensely exciting contests of 1924, in which John McGraw led the Giants against Bucky Harris and the Senators. Washington won that memorable series by four games out of seven, making baseball history.

There were dopesters who last spring picked Washington and New York to win their respective pennants. But at least eight other clubs were also picked as "world beaters." One guess is as good as another in baseball.

PRISON POPULATION DECLINING

The moral conduct of Pennsylvanians has apparently shown greater improvement than is noticeable among their neighbors.

While the statement may seem to put us in a class with the Philistines, it is borne out by prison statistics. During the past year only twenty-three out of every 100,000 inhabitants of this state were committed to a state penitentiary or reformatory. In Maryland the ratio was 176; in West Virginia, 86; in Ohio, 48; in New Jersey, 43; and in New York, 28. The national average was 57. The figures do not cover persons sentenced to county jails.

While Pennsylvania commitments had increased in 1931 over 1930, they decreased in 1932 from 1931. New York, New Jersey and Ohio also registered decreases last year from the previous year, but West Virginia and Maryland were less fortunate. Probably it would be difficult to find a cause for these fluctuations. The theory that an economic depression strengthens our sense of spiritual values can not be uniformly proved from these curves. The purge of our baser instincts through appeal to pity, which was the classical test of tragedy, may in some instances, however, describe the effects of the recent panic in relation to the total amount of crime.

WEAKNESS IS STRONG
Weakness has such power that it may conquer the mighty. Quiet tears, trembling lips, clinging arms, delicate ways, not fighting with strong muscles, knobby budgeons, blooming guns, prevail over greater armaments.

A new-born baby, wailing, moving small arms frantically, crying for food and protection, moves armies. A sick one, beaten to a bed by disease, draws a strong one to the bedside and wins aid and comfort. An old woman—gray in her hair and lines on her face and her limbs enfeebled by years of life—holds her family close about her.

The weak may dominate over the strong and the good and the decent. They can win no victories, however, receive none of their just due from the mean, the treacherous, the selfish. They dip deep into men and women of character and integrity who have tenderness and understanding in their hearts, and say silently to themselves, "I must help the weak because they need my help, because if I withheld my helping hand I would but add to their pain, and how could I bear to be living with myself through all the remembering years with the thought of my hardness returning again and again to me."

So the helpless have in them a power that is gigantic. And if they are good they do not use this power deliberately. They do not trade upon it, they do not use it to their mean advantage, weeping and trembling and binding men with small, thin cords to their service. . . . They use it only if they are small, if they are self-pitying. If they are afraid of the unknown and think only of themselves and their desires and their needs, and thus mix aversion with the unwilling pity that comes to their help.

The strength of the weak is mighty, but it is dangerous. It is the last resort. It is the last weapon men and women should raise in their behalf. Because it is double-edged and the hand grip is poisoned and that one who uses his own weakness to win an advantage out of life loses the battle in the end and lives parasitically to the last of his days. And for the parasite there is no peace on earth.

The Missouri River is no barrier to a homesick horse when it wishes to return to its home. It was discovered by the Mason brothers, ranchers in the Big Bend district of the Missouri river.

After searching for it for a full day they received a telephone call from their father, who reported the horse had arrived home that morning covered with mud from the Missouri River, which it had to swim in order to reach its home.

EVIL THOUGHTS

There are persons whom you dislike strongly and you wish that they might be made to suffer either physically or mentally.

Often your thoughts are of ways to make them suffer.

These thoughts change you from the really kind person you are to an entirely different sort of being.

You have the most disturbing sensations.

When your evil spell has passed you are ashamed of yourself and feel that you must have had an attack of some kind that left your whole system poisoned.

It takes some time for you to recover from these emotions.

As you recover from the effects you are surprised by the extent of the hatred aroused within you toward these persons.

Then the thought comes that one should be stronger than revenge.

Can you think of anything good that ever came to you when you did give way to the spirit of revenge and exercised it?

Remember that those against whom you direct your evil thoughts are not experiencing the disturbance over it that you are.

Why punish yourself?

Why fill your mind with evil thoughts while something pleasant might be considered?

WHY NOT TRY THIS

World's Wheat Agreement
Called Diplomatic Triumph

First Definite Achievement In International Co-operation
Accepted As Fine Outcome Of Economic Conference With Its Uncertainties

American satisfaction over the accomplishment of a world agreement for the curtailment of wheat production is emphatically expressed. The incidental decision for reduction of the American crop by estimated 126,000,000 bushels is believed to be an important step in the direction of farm relief. Domestic cost of the reduction plan is placed at $120,000,000. Gratification is felt that Russia is among the nations whose crops will be subject to the pact. Hopes are expressed that the program will have a strong influence in overcoming the world depression.

"If it be true, as is pretty generally admitted," says the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "that prosperously on the farm is the bedrock essential to universal economic welfare, the London wheat agreement is entitled to be hailed as a constructive achievement of inestimable value, and a new charter for agriculture. It will affect millions of farmers in both hemispheres. It grapples practically with the dual evils of over-production and price chaos. It records another triumph for the principle of give-and-take that is ever the basis of agreements not exclusively domestic in character but which require the world point of view for their satisfactory conclusion."

"The aim of the pact," observes the TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL, "is to adjust demand and supply, or production and consumption, of wheat in the world. Surplus-producing states are pledged to limit exportation in the crop year to 560 million bushels and to reduce production at the same time by 15 per cent. If they fail in this they must take care of their surplus at home. Importing states pledge themselves to moderate quota restrictions on wheat imports, to encourage consumption of wheat and wheat products, and to stimulate wheat production and to lower tariffs under certain stipulated conditions."

The Capital also feels that it is "an earnest of the ability of nations to find common ground of understanding on major economic and political problems."

"The agreement has demonstrated," according to the NEW YORK SUN, "that even in these times, an international conference is not doomed to break up in ill feeling, and that is worth while." The Sun advises, however, that "to enforce an agreement on production, export, consumption and taxation of wheat a score and more nations will be a hard task." That paper continues: "Each of the nations whose representatives took part in the London wheat conference has its own problems. Each of them wishes to be as nearly self-sustaining as it may be. Each of them wishes to keep the cost of living as low as possible for its people. Each of them must consider its own producers. Each of them deals with a people whose habits differ from those of other peoples. The complexity of the situation produced by conflicting interests is bewildering. In spite of it, a compact has been made to which all have felt justified in assenting and to which many look for improvement in the condition of the world."

She succeeded her half-sister, Mary, daughter of Henry's first wife, Catharine of Aragon (Victoria was the daughter of the 4th son of a king). The legitimacy of the Virgin Queen (for her Virginia is named) is questioned. She died at 70 after ruling 44 years. She was succeeded by the son of Mary, Queen of Scots, whom she had doomed to death. One of her humble subjects, little known in her times, has a far greater & more enduring fame than her: Shakespeare. Husband-Wife Reunited After 72 Long Hours

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 7.—A real life musical comedy plot, replete with farcical situations entangling the lives of a pair of Adrian, Mich., newlyweds, came to a happy ending today at Wildwood, Pa., just as any good musical comedy should end.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Quinn, wed last May, came to Pittsburgh last Saturday. They separated. Mrs. Quinn going to a theater and Quinn setting out to make the rounds of friends' homes. They were to meet at county jail.

Mrs. Quinn arrived at the jail first—anything can happen in musical comedy—but there was no trace of Quinn. She set out to look for him. Quinn arrived late, found his wife not there, and set out to look for her.

Quinn's trail led to the missing persons bureau, Butler, Pa., home of his wife's friends, and finally to a barbecue establishment in Wildwood. His wife's search included another lonely wait in front of the jail, a visit to the home of Quinn's sister and then to the Wildwood barbecue.

The couple arrived at the barbecue almost simultaneously, nearly 72 hours after they were to have been reunited in front of the jailhouse.

IF YOU WANT TO REDUCE

Many women are reducing easily and safely by the new scientific Vannay treatment. Come in and ask us what Vannay has done for hundreds of women who have been reduced because they could not wear the lovely, slim fashions. Vannay is an absolutely harmless tablet. It contains no thyroid, no laxative drugs at all. It is a natural regulator of the digestive juices that dissolves fat before it can deform the body.

We heartily recommend Vannay because we know that it is safe and effective. Ask any of our clerks for the booklet "How To Reduce With Absolute Safety."

Locomotive And Train
Crash; Fireman Suffers
Bruises

(International News Service)
CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 7.—An elderly passenger suffered a heart attack, seven women fainted, a locomotive fireman suffered severe bruises and 175 passengers were shaken up, when a locomotive traveling light ran into a commuters' train in the Camden yards today.

The man who suffered the heart attack and who refused to give his name at the scene of the wreck was rushed to a Camden hospital where it was said that he would recover.

The commuters' train and the locomotive were moving slowly on parallel tracks in the yards of the West Jersey and Seaboard railroad. From his side of the cab the engineer was unable to see that a switch to the left was shunting him right into the train. The fireman saw the danger and shouted. The engineer slammed on the brakes but not in time to prevent the locomotive from bumping into the side of the train.

Several cars were derailed.

TO START FORMAL PROBE OF BINGHAMTON WRECK

R. R. Officials Blame Engineer

Officials Charge Engineer Of Milk Train Disregarded Signals

FIFTEEN PERSONS
KILLED IN CRASH

(International News Service)
BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Sept. 7.—With definite responsibility for the Erie railroad train wreck, in which 15 persons were killed and scores hurt, laid by officials of the road on M. H. King, engineer of a milk train which crashed into the rear end of the Atlantic Express, five-way investigation into the tragedy was pressed today.

As H. J. Bordwell, general manager of the Eastern division of the road, laid blame for the wreck on the milk train engineer, investigators of the interstate commerce commission announced they would open a hearing tomorrow at Hornell, the Erie's division point in this region, to determine official responsibility. In addition to the federal probe, state, city, county and railroad officials were leading parallel inquiries.

Blame Engineer
"Engineer M. H. King was to blame and to blame alone," Bordwell declared in a statement issued here after his arrival at the scene and a conference with other officials. "He absolutely disregarded signals, rules and regulations."

A federal hearing is inevitable and we are ready to cooperate fully," Bordwell added. "I believe you will find out our summation of the tragedy will be that of the government when all the details are put together."

Meantime, Coroner F. J. Hitchcock, of Broome county, said no blame will be placed anywhere or on anyone by his office until an inquest, scheduled for tomorrow, is held.

From local officials, however, came intimations arrests might be made in the light of disclosures made late yesterday at a joint city-county inquiry held at local police headquarters at which "every interested individual" was quizzed.

King, the engineer of the milk train which plowed into the rear of the crack passenger train a minute after it halted near the edge of the Binghamton yards to wait for a clear main track, told newspapermen and officials after the wreck he had not seen warning signals in time to stop his train.

While railroad officials insisted the milk train was in an automatic signal block which must have warned him of the stopped passenger train ahead, the milk train engineer said the signal showed merely a caution light and that he was unaware he was not entering a clear block.

First knowledge he had of the stalled passenger train, King said, was when his locomotive smashed into it, telescoping a steel car into a wooden steel-framed coach in which all the dead and most of the injured were riding.

One of the questions interesting investigators was why the wooden coach, which had a steel undercarriage was placed in the middle of the train, between steel coaches. When the crash came, the steel car behind the one in which the victims met death, telescoped through the wooden car, smashing it, and jamming the passengers in a tangled mass.

CHILDREN ASKED TO LEAVE LIBRARY EARLY

All children who have pink borrowers' cards are being requested by the New Castle free public library to leave the branch libraries not later than 7:30 o'clock each evening.

This ruling is being made in order that adult borrowers may find the branches not so crowded when calling for books later in the evening. It applies particularly to the branches, not the main, library buildings.

Allowed His First Papers To Lapse

Louis Carr, a native of Honduras, in South America, came to the prothonotary's office Wednesday to see about getting his final naturalization papers. It was found that he had taken out his first papers in 1912, and as he had allowed more than seven years to elapse without applying for his second the first became void and he will have to start all over again.

Favorites Win At Forest Hills

Gledhill Defeats Parker In Third Round Of National Tourney

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7.—From polo to pinocle there is no game in the world where the players run so consistently true to form as in tennis.
To convince yourself, just glance at the fourth round of the national singles championships today where you will find 9 Americans, two Australians, two Japanese and three Englishmen ready to battle. The first eight in the national rankings are Vines, Allison, Sutter, Wood, Shields, Stoen, Mangin and Gledhill, all of whom are playing today. The ninth American is little Bryan Grant of Atlanta who is No. 13 in the national ranking but who deserves and will receive a higher rating this year.
All seven of the foreigners are seeded.

Gledhill Wins
Of the 74 matches played to date only one, the Parker-Gledhill match yesterday, was considered an upset but if you look at their ratings it was no upset at all for Gledhill is No. 8 and Parker is listed far down among the second ten.
On form today, therefore, Vines, Stoen, Allison, Perry, Shields, Sutoh, Sutter and Crawford figure to win but in several instances it would be no upset if the other fellow came through.

Shute And Burke Are Favorites In Golfing Tourney

(International News Service)

GLEN FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 7.—More than 200 entrants, including Densmore Shute, British open champion, took off today in the fifth annual Glen Falls open golf tourney. The field is the most formidable ever assembled for this 72-hole medal play event.
Shute and Billy Burke were generally held the favorites. Shute won the event last year and Burke was successful in 1929 and 1931.
There is $3,500 in prizes at stake, with the winner's share $1,000.

Nearby Towns To Send Fans Here

Bessemer, West Pittsburgh, Ellwood, Koppel Represented By Boxers

Whenever a youth's home town becomes interested in a youngster who is endeavoring to get somewhere, be it in baseball, football or boxing one can rest assured that his friends will be present when he engages in conflict. For this reason enthusiastic supporters of boxing from Bessemer, West Pittsburgh and Ellwood City will augment the crowd at Castle bowl Monday night when the Jefferson A. C. holds its second amateur boxing show.

The fans and fanettes of Bessemer will cheer loudly for Frankie Rachig who is to box Billy DeMott. New Castle high school student, Rachig is training at the Dime club and De Mott, who has hopes of some day wearing a letter for football ability is training at the Jefferson A. C. of which he is a member. They are lightweights, meaning each weighs 135 pounds when "trained to the bone."

Root For Arnett

West Pittsburgh fans will "pull hard" for Charlie Arnett when he meets Custy Marino of Ellwood City in another bout. These boxers are also lightweights. Arnett is the chap who has been polishing off all his foes and Custy is the lightweight who hooked Pete Branzowits on the jaw and knocked him out last Friday night at Farrell. They are members of the Rocco A. C. and Koppel A. C., respectively.
George Rocco, middleweight, has become the 160 pound pride of Ellwood City since his brother Emmett died, steps around the rink like a lightweight and is what is called in ring vernacular "a smart boxer." He is scheduled to oppose Gene Kennedy of Youngstown who made good progress in the tournament conducted there a week or more ago. Should George win from Kennedy he will probably meet Kid Goodball of East Liverpool. These boys are the same weight as such pro boxers as Henry Firpo who fought here often.

Red Holds District Title
None of the boys has proved more popular than Tony Adamo of this city. "Tony's fists have helped to bring fame to the Jefferson A. C. and he has agreed to take on Red Cioceky, northwestern "welter-weight" champion. Red won the title in the Oil City tournament. He is equally as stiff a puncher as Adamo. Tony lost once to Cioceky.

Eddie Owens of this city is training daily under the tutelage of Jimmy Dime of the Dime club and will meet Michael Grayack of Ellwood City who holds a membership in the Ellwood Book A. C. The first they have appeared in an A. A. U. bout. They are reported in good condition.

Mickie Cutie of Campbell and Sonny Barry, Youngstown, are exceptionally classy good amateur flyweights and the fans will sure get an eyeful of grace when they box. Barry lost the Youngstown district championship to Jutic last week and asked for, and was given a return bout on neutral ground.

Pagley Popular With Fans
Yankee Pagley, the two-fisted, ever going youngster from the Jefferson A. C. will take on another alien in Lew Tamber of Farrell. They're 118 pounders. Pete Branzowitch will tackle Sam Crestella. Pete hails from Farrell and Sam from Ohio and judging from interest there will be plenty of action furnished by the A. A. U. boxers.

Will Play Title Match On Sunday

Nunn And Gilliland To Meet In 18-Hole Contest For Municipal Title

W. M. Nunn, present Municipal champion will defend his title, when he meets his brother-in-law, M. K. Gilliland, former Municipal champion in a 36-hole match on the Munny course.

This will be an interesting match to watch as both men play the same style of game, and are about equal in ability. It will be friendly rivalry between the two, as there are probably no two other golfers in the city of New Castle who have played together as much as this pair.

Manager W. G. Fleming announced today that the first eighteen will start at 9 a. m. and the second round of eighteen will begin at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. A large gallery is expected on hand to witness the match.

Spectator Catches Homer By Gehrig

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Yes, Mr. Ripley, a ball was caught, but still it counted as a home run. It happened here yesterday as the Yankees won from St. Louis. Lou Gehrig swept the ball into the right field bleachers, where an unknown fan calmly stood up and caught it.

Tri-State Colleges Prepare For 1933 Football Season

(By R. X. GRAHAM)

Colleges of the Tri-State Conference are making preparations for a strenuous 1933 campaign despite the fact that a number of the member schools have found it necessary to curtail the period of fall training camp. Usually opening camp on September 1, the Tri-State colleges have in other years been able to get in almost an entire month of work before the first contest. This year will find many schools with but little more than a week of preliminary drills.

Geneva, the only conference school with a new coach, did not have spring drills, so was the first to start the fall camp. The Covenanters under Coach Robertson reported on August 28. A squad of 25 men, with 15 lettermen as a nucleus, has been drilling each day since then in preparation for a hard campaign which starts on September 22 in a night game with California State at Beaver Falls.

Coach Frank Wolf's Waynesburg Yellowjackets were second to start camp, a squad of 35 men reporting on August 30. The Jackets, with eight lettermen available, open the season against Duquesne in a night game at Pittsburgh on September 15. Westminster's squad was the third to report. Coach John Lawther had his men on hand for initial workouts on Labor Day, and has been giving them two drills each day since then. The squad includes 29 men, 10 of whom are lettermen. The Titans open their season on the home field September 23 against Slippery Rock.

Bethany, under Coach John Knight, will not have training camp until college opens on September 11. A squad of 25 men including 14 lettermen will be on hand then to point for the opening game with Hiram at Bethany on October 7. Thiel will not have a fall training camp. Coach Jack Stoebber will start drilling the men on September 13 when college opens. A squad of 35 men to report at that time will include 12 varsity lettermen. Thiel opens its schedule against Geneva at Beaver Falls on September 30 in a night contest.

Grove City will be the last Tri-State college to start grid drills. The Crimson squad will report on September 18 to Coach Bill Amos, and will have until October 7 to get ready for the opening contest with Morris Harvey at Grove City. A squad of 30 men in the Grover camp will include 10 lettermen from last season.

Waynesburg, winner of the conference championship last year, and Geneva, runner-up to the Jackets, loom as the strongest teams for the coming season. The contest between these two teams on October 20 at Beaver Falls should be a high point in the conference race.

Coach David Morgan Boyd had his Union High football out for another workout Wednesday afternoon and at the end of a two-hour workout the squad was ready for the showers. Three new men reported making a total of 35 on the squad.

Captain Georgacz is forced to watch the team workout for the next several weeks from the sidelines. Georgacz was ordered by the doctor to give up football for a week or two at least. Boyd has a tough task ahead of him to get ready for Ellwood City High on Saturday September 16. Daily workouts will occur and it will not be long before the scrimmage sessions are in order.

STOCKS

Stock Market
Is Rather DullOil And Gold Shares Feature In Sluggish Market This Morning

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The oil and gold shares featured an otherwise dull and sluggish stock market today. The last as a whole showed no disposition to continue the rally which started yesterday afternoon and prices slipped off more as a result of a lack of buying rather than through any aggressive selling.

The nation-wide firming of oil prices yesterday brought additional speculative interest into the oil shares. Issues such as Seaboard Oil, Standard of California, and Standard of New Jersey led the group to higher levels.

Gold mining shares were again well bought with Dome in the van of the advance. The buying here was evidently due to the desire of traders to hedge against any possible dollar revaluation and also to take advantage of the possible increase in earnings to accrue to these companies under the new export regulations at the raising of the homestead dividend.

The rails were again heavy with
New York Central, Lackawanna, and Erie dipping fractionally despite the estimate that loadings were up seasonally last week.

Steels also were easy on the further decline operations. Utility shares were quiet and slightly lower with Consolidated Gas easing fractionally.

Fine Scrimmage Session
At Lincoln FieldBunny, Franus, Beane, Lux-

Working Backfield

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—The faces of Head Coach "Gandy" Benedict and Assistant Mike Ferrare seemed much brighter yesterday as they directed the candidates for Ellwood City high's football eleven through a stiff scrimmage session.

The way the first offensive team ran through the signals, plays and passes, it seemed that they were in mid-season form. A backfield composed of Bunny at the signal calling post, Franus and the colored flash, Beane, at the halves, and Luxenberg at full, tore off gain after gain.
Many touchdowns were made. A line composed of Belmont and Jeannette at the ends, Young and Nova-lesio at the tackles, Steckman and Kaufman at the guards and Pish-loneri at center made big holes in the opposing lineup throughout the scrimmage. The other team was composed of Wilson at quarter, B.
Young and Ottaviano at the halfback posts, Zobczak at full, Custao and Tammaro at the wings, Bielci and Veticia at the tackles, Shires and Manzo at the guards and Kraynak at center.

Others to be inserted into either of the lineups were Menice, Pavuck, Metz, Scopellito, Robuck, Frascchetti, Deemer, Cavallaro and Huzinec in the backfield and Catarcio, Richards, Flanagan, Yoho, Helsner, Viniski, Hall and Abbattochio in the line.

The scrimmage consisted of seven running plays and a few passes.
Great improvement is expected in the squad before the first game a week from Saturday, here.

Cabinet Making
To Be ContinuedNight School Students To Be Given Opportunity To Make Own Furniture

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 7.—The long winter nights are "just around the corner" and friend husband is again faced with the question "What shall I do with my time?" The answer is found in night school where busy men spend their time and energy doing things they like to do with their hands, making things they want to make.

Last year's students in cabinet making were unanimous in their approval of this course and expressed their desire to have it continued. It is for this reason and also because of the fact that cabinet making is so fundamental as a diversion and an outlet, that the course is to be continued this year. Last year the class was filled to capacity, in fact, several men had to be turned away, such was the appeal this class held for the men.

The high school shop is particularly well adapted to handle a class in cabinet making in that all hand tools necessary for the various jobs are in stock. Sufficient power machinery is supplied to prepare the wood yet not in such quantity as to do away with the necessity for hand work.

Instruction is given in the care and use of the common hand tools, and in their application to ordinary joins. More advanced work depends on the desire of the individual student. Different types of finishes are covered individually as each project nears completion. Most of the work last year was finished in the shop although some of the students finished them at home.

The cost of this course depends entirely on each student. The students pay for the material used from shop supplies, this depending entirely on the job. Many students brought their own material from home.

You can register for this course
on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, September 11, 12 and 13, at the Lincoln building from 7 to 9.

Young Girl Ends Hunger Strike In Montgomery Jail

Girl Picket Held In Jail Smells Breakfast Cooking And Ends Hunger Strike

(International News Service)
NORRISTOWN, Pa., Sept. 7.—The tempting aroma of breakfast, as it is prepared in the Montgomery county jail here, proved too much for the spirit of Frances Moore, 22, of New York, a graduate of Barnard College of Columbia University, and would-be martyr in the cause of labor.

Her attempted hunger strike to protest the arrest and fining of pickets at the children's clothing plant of Rosenau Brothers, at Red Hill, collapsed this morning and she ate a hearty breakfast while her jailers breathed a combined sigh of relief.

Since her incarceration yesterday when she refused the offer of Miss Gladys Dickinson, an officer of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, to pay her fine, and costs as was done for the other 17 pickets arrested, Miss Moore had had only a cup of unsweetened tea.

Contract Let For Primary Ballots

New Castle Firm Is Given
Award At Meeting Of County Commissioners

Contract for the printing of about 57,000 September primary election ballots was let to the Miller, Pyle and Street Printing Company by the Lawrence County commissioners on Wednesday afternoon.

There were three bids, that of Miller, Pyle and Street, was $1,185; Brindle Printing Company, $1,250; 50 both of New Castle, and that of the Zeigler Printing Company of Butler $495.45.

The Butler firm was the lowest bidder, but it was found in examining the law relative to the printing of ballots, that if there is any place where additional ballots are needed on election day, the printing company having the contract must deliver them within an hour.

As it was obvious that this could not be done by a Butler firm, the bid of the Zeigler Company was withdrawn. The commissioners then let the contract to the next lowest bidder.

The contract calls for 57,427 ballots, some of which will be sample ballots. Work on the contract will begin at once.

Guard Mrs. Moody's Hospital Rooms

Man With Camera Creates
Scene At Hospital Room
Of Noted Tennis
Star

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Attendants at Stanford University hospital here guarded the room of Mrs. Helen Willis Moody today following an attempt of a stranger, bearing a camera to take her picture.

The former net queen became almost hysterical and shouted for help when the stranger forced his way into her room. He ran from the hospital as attendants rushed to the room.

"I know no newspaper photographer would do such a thing," Dr. C. A. Willis, father of Mrs. Moody said. "It must have been a private photographer with no respect for society."

Dr. Willis said it would be six months or longer before his daughter would be able to return to the courts. She must remain quiet in bed for at least three weeks.

Jack McGurn Is Given Sentence

Chicago Judge Sentences Former Al Capone Executioner To Jail

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—His reputation as executioner for Al Capone had "Machine Gun Jack" McGurn under sentence today to serve a six months term in the bridewell after a jury took nineteen minutes to find the golfing gangster guilty of vagrancy.

McGurn, once a suspect in the St. Valentine's Day massacre of seven "Bugs" Moran gangsters, never did time for gunnery feats, but the fashion plate gangster last night was found guilty before Judge Thomas Green for having a bad reputation. He was given the maximum six months sentence under the new criminal reputation vagrancy law.

TROOP TO DRILL FRIDAY EVENING

Normal Program Will Be Resumed Following Return From Camp

Troop F., 103rd Cavalry will resume its regular drill schedule tomorrow evening, when the drill session at the Armory will consist of cleaning and stowing away the equipment used at camp this summer.

On the ensuing week, the stables will be thoroughly polished and cleaned up, and a little outdoor drill will be staged.

Outdoor drill will continue until orders are received from the state headquarters of the Troop notifying them to return to the Armory for drill sessions. As there will be many nice days yet, this order is not expected for some little time.

There are flood lights at the stables enabling the troopers to drill out-of-doors after the evenings wane and darkness comes early.

Milk-Producers Of County All Sign Up For Proposed Code

Charles N. Emery of Scott township reports that dairymen of the county have completed their code and sent it in to Washington for approval. All the producers of the county signed the code, the major proposition in which is that milk be sold on a 50-50 basis. This means that the producers are to get one half of the retail price of the milk. The Lawrence county dairymen are ready to send a representative to Washington if desired.
